Product information

- 13 The pricing displayed is the valid pricing for your account once you login. The name, quantity and price of each item will appear in your cart.

Estimated order value and final order value

- 14 At the time of checkout, the prices will be updated to estimate your total charges using the price you see on the date your order is submitted.
- 15 The order total shown in your cart before you finalise your order is an estimated total only. Your order confirmation email that we send you will also note your total estimated order value. The final order value is the actual price you will pay for your order (plus a service fee if applicable for Delivery) and may change from the estimated order value for the following reasons:

- 15.1 Variable weight items - if you have ordered items that need to be weighed (such as produce, seafood, meat and deli items from our fresh food departments) or are pre-packed items that are of variable weight, you will be charged for the actual weight of the item picked by us (at the unit price displayed in Gilmours Online at the time you placed your order). We will do our best to ensure that the items you actually get and pay for weigh as close as possible to the weight you ordered.
- 15.2 Substitutions -if you have agreed that substitutions are allowed on your order or if you have stated your specific needs in the Special Instructions section at checkout, the final value of your order may change as a result of us substituting one or more ordered items (that are not available) for items of an equal or lower value (compared against the price listed on Gilmours Online for the ordered but unavailable items when your order was placed).
- 15.3 No substitutions - if you have not agreed to allow for substitutions on your order, the final value of your order may change from the estimated order value, as a result of us removing items from your order that are not available.
- 16 The final value for variable weight items will be calculated using the unit price listed on Gilmours Online at the time your order is placed (for updated order - see clause 22 below), but using the weight of the item when your order is fulfilled.
- 17 The final value for substitutions and specially requested items will be calculated based on the price of those Gilmours Online items when your order is dispatched.
- 18 For all other items, your final order value will be calculated based on the prices of those items listed on Gilmours Online at the time of your order is placed.
- 19 Where the final order value of your order is different from your estimated order value, this will be displayed in your final invoice for your order. This final invoice will be provided to you with your order on delivery or it will be emailed to you. You can also download a copy of any recent invoices (last 90 days) through Gilmours Online in "My Invoices". To request a copy of an older invoice or statement, or if you would like invoices and statements emailed directly to you, please contact our Customer Service Team on 0800 270 414.
- 20 Service fees are calculated based on the final order value.

- 21 Once you have submitted your order to Your Gilmours Store you cannot change it via Gilmours Online. Amendments must be phoned into Your Gilmours Store or call our Customer Service Team on 0800 270 414.
