WHOLESALE FOOD & BEVERAGE

Matariki – A time to reflect and celebrate.

Matariki, the Māori New Year, is a special time in Aotearoa. It marks the rising of the Matariki star cluster in the winter sky. This is a time for whānau and communities to come together, reflect on the past year, and look forward to the new one. People celebrate by sharing kai (food) like boil-up, rēwena bread, kaimoana, and other hearty dishes.

At Gilmours, we're proud to support Matariki by providing quality products and services to help make your celebration memorable.

RĒWENA BREAD

Ingredients

2 cups Rēwana bug
2 cups warm water
4 cups flour + more flour for dusting
4 tbsp sugar

Method

1. Add flour and sugar to a mixing bowl.
2. Add 2 cups of the rēwena bug.
3. Add 2 cups of warm water.
4. Mix until you get a dough consistency, adding more flour if you need to.
5. Sprinkle flour on bench top and knead dough for at least 10 minutes.
6. Take a small bit of dough out and add it back to the bug. Cover your bug back up and put it somewhere warm.
7. This recipe makes two small loaves. So, split the remaining dough into two and make two loaves of bread. Grease two small or one large oven tray and set the loaves on the tray.
8. Cover and place somewhere warm to rise until they are doubled in size. This process takes about two hours, but may take longer on a cooler day.
9. Preheat oven 180 degrees fan bake.
10. When the oven is hot the loaves have risen bake for 30 minutes.
11. Remove rēwena parāoa from the oven, wrap in a wet tea towel and let them rest.
